Sunday Sales Fight Mostly Confined to Twin Cities

By GERRY NELSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Whatever it is that gives people the urge to buy and sell merchandise on Sunday, the urge seems confined to the Twin Cities metropolitan area.

There, Sunday sales are a sizzling question that has been through the courts and ballot box repeatedly — with still no clearcut decision. In outstate Minnesota, an Associated Press survey shows little interest in the question and not many problems to plague City Councils.

Fairly typical of the survey answers was this from a Ferguson Falls man: "There's been no turmoil over Sunday operations since Sunday movies were authorized in Ferguson Falls 30 years ago."

At the core of the Sunday selling dispute are the hotly competitive department stores — selling everything from lingerie to lawn mowers.

Some Twin Cities discount outlets have been open on Sunday for several years. Others have gone to it recently to meet the competition. Operators of Target stores in Crystal and St. Louis Park said they made the move to meet competition. The Topps store in St. Louis Park also joined the Sunday openers.

One of the most determined to maintain Sunday hours has been GEM, Inc., which won a court stay at Bloomington's new Sunday closing ordinance. A hearing was scheduled in that matter today.

Bloomington voters adopted the ordinance 6,041 to 4,881 this month, replacing an older Sunday closing law shot full of holes in court battles.

Bloomington seems to be about the only community in the state to push the matter to a vote of the people. A few other suburbs have had the question before City Councils, while the St. Louis Park council is scheduled to have a look at the question tonight.

New Ulm city fathers passed a Sunday closing ordinance in 1962, obviously aimed at discount stores. It doesn't disturb opening of cafes, filling stations, neighborhood groceries and taverns. The limit is on stores having more than three employees and selling merchandise other than food.

Pick out any community, of any size, outside the Twin Cities and you'll find restaurants, gas stations and occasional grocery stores open on Sundays. Everyone seems to think this is fine.

The missing element outside — discount stores, and the inherent conflict between these suburban outlets and the big downtown department stores.

Closest thing to the Twin City discount stores outside the metropolitan area might be Tempo stores, such as those in Rochester and Montevideo. Tempo stores, operated by Gambie-Skogmo, Inc., are not open on Sundays, though their line of merchandise and price policies closely parallel discount stores.

The pattern outside is for stores to be open six days a week plus Friday or Saturday nights, sometimes both nights. In larger towns, Monday and Thursday nights may be used for shopping.

In Rochester, downtown stores are usually open Monday and Thursday nights while outlying shopping centers stay open every night. There is no Sunday department store selling.

Duluth has no Sunday closing ordinance, but all large department stores and four sizable discount stores close by agreement on the Sabbath. Downtown merchants say they'll ask for a Sunday closing ordinance if the discount stores change their minds.

St. Cloud doesn't ban Sunday sales, but stores are closed. All stores are open Friday nights, some on Monday as well.

Albert Lea and Little Falls are examples of cities where Friday nights are set aside for shopping, with no Sunday sales even though there's no city ban. Little Falls merchants are talking of shifting to Monday nights.

New Ulm had used Friday night for years, then shifted to Monday except for a couple of stores which kept the old pattern.

Kennedy Has 5 Speeches In Tampa, Miami Today

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Staff Writer

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy flew to Tampa today at 500 miles an hour to predict that the time is within sight when men will fly routinely through space at more than 15,000 miles an hour.

Kennedy produced this Buck Rogers vision at the start of a two-stage speech-making tour which he hopes will help him capture the South's most populous states — Florida and Texas — in 1964.

Flying to Tampa from his weekend headquarters at Palm

Beach aboard his jet transport, Kennedy readied heady futuristic forecasts for a ceremony marking the 50th anniversary of the first scheduled air service.

In his prepared text, the President contrasted the first commercial flight from Tampa to neighboring St. Petersburg, at a price of $5 a head, with current jet travel.

And, looking toward the decades ahead, he said that "with our sight, if not yet within our grasp, is the day when men will routinely fly through space at 25 times the speed of sound."

That would be more than 15,000 miles an hour.

Even by 1975, Kennedy said, "metroplanes" will be able to take off directly from the crowded center of one city and fly to another — even as airliners cross oceans and continents in 1,400 miles an hour.

The President said that the "pioneering spirit is still burning bright in this state and nation" and that America is ready to venture down a path "through the dark unknown that lies ahead."

Kennedy arranged a busy Florida itinerary, starting with a visit to the headquarters of the strike command at MacDill Air Force Base near Tampa. The President flies from Palm Beach to MacDill in late morning.

$250,000 Fire Sweeps Chicago Restaurant
CHICAGO (AP)—Fire swept the Homestead Restaurant, a popular suburban dining spot, today causing an estimated $250,000 damage.

State Fire Marshal William J. Cowhey and James P. McMahon, assistant director of public safety, sped to the scene on North Avenue, west of the Chicago city limits, in an effort to determine if arson was involved.

The restaurant, which employs more than 60 workers, is operated by Ashley U. Ricketts, 50, of suburban Park Ridge, who also operates two other restaurants in Chicago.

Firemen from 10 suburbs fought the fire.

Use of Guard Plane by Young Democrats Flayed

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A conservative legislator and an aide to Gov. Karl Rolvaag tangled in a war of words this weekend over alleged political use of a National Guard plane.

Rep. Otto Bang of Edina made the initial charge, a spokesman for the governor's office retorted, and Bang fired a fresh volley.

In his statement Sunday night, Bang said Rolvaag "had not denied my allegation that he sent an official staff member and a non-staff worker on a National Guard plane . . . to Indiana, where they attended the Young Democratic Midwest Convention on Oct. 18."

Previously a spokesman for Rolvaag denied anything wrong had been done. He added that a National Guard plane will be used this week to take Rolvaag to a Governor's Conference in Omaha, Neb., and "a few Republicans will probably accompany Rolvaag."

Bang on Saturday accused Rolvaag of permitting a free ride on a National Guard ship by two delegates to the Young Democratic meeting.

An aide said Rolvaag saw nothing illegal, immoral or wrongful about the incident. He said the flight in question was part of an authorized training flight for over 30 national guardsmen. Moreover, he said, there were some 20 vacant places on the plane and the two delegates flew only to Bunker Hill, Ind., the plane's destination. From there the two paid their own transportation to the convention at Terre Haute, Ind., and returned to the Twin Cities at their own expense.

"The governor is the commander in chief of the Minnesota National Guard and will continue to exercise his own judgment as to what is proper," his spokesman said. "In this case, he feels nothing improper was done."

To this, Bang said, "I call upon the governor to divulge completely the number of times that his staff members have hitchhiked rides on Guard aircraft for political missions. This in misuse of his commander-in-chief's privilege and I intend to take this fight up and down the state to alert the people to this misuse of privilege."

Bang said the ride was taken Oct. 18 by Michael O'Donnell, a member of the governor's staff, and Ted Muenster, a student "intern" in the governor's office. Rolvaag's aide said Muenster was a University of Minnesota graduate student working in the governor's office on a Ford Foundation grant.

Thompson Jury Hears Former Club Manager Barghoorn, Back Home, Hopes for Period of Quiet

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Ex-convict Sheldon Morris testified today that two defendants in the murder of Mrs. Carol Thompson were in telephone contact four days before the slaying last March 6.

Morris, the state's 58th witness, resumed the story he had begun Friday in the state's case against St. Paul attorney T. Eugene Thompson, husband of the slain woman.

Defense counsel blocked — at least temporarily — an attempt to get Morris to identify a photograph of Dick W. C. Anderson, the alleged triggerman in the slaying.

But Morris, drawing on an apparently photographic memory, told of a series of meetings among figures in the case in the days preceding the slaying. Morris is charged as an accessory.

Morris told of being in the home of Norman Mastrian, alleged middleman in the slaying, on March 2. The witness said Mastrian told him he would call "T." then making a second call and saying into the telephone: "May I speak to Mr. Thompson?"

Morris said Mastrian, following this March 2 call, gave him a sheet of paper containing the names of three attorneys. Morris said Mastrian instructed him to contact these lawyers if he — Mastrian — got into any kind of trouble.

Morris said Mastrian also borrowed his car March 4, two days before the slaying, announcing he was to meet "Mr. Thompson" late at night in a cafe parking lot.

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — "I'm working on my book and I hope I'll have a period of quiet after this," says Frederick C. Barghoorn, home from the Soviet Union where he was jailed as a spy.

Arrested Oct. 31 on an espionage charge, the 52-year-old Yale professor was imprisoned in Moscow until Saturday.

Then the Soviet Union, citing the personal concern expressed by President Kennedy, announced it was expelling Barghoorn. He was hustled aboard an airliner and flown to London. Sunday a second flight carried him to New York and a chartered plane brought him to New Haven.

He was taken to the apartment of Mrs. Elizabeth Barghoorn, his 80-year-old mother. Barghoorn, a bachelor, lives next door.

At a news conference Sunday night, Barghoorn read a statement about "my unpleasant experience."

He allowed only a few minutes of questions. He refused to answer, or replied cautiously, to questions about details of his arrest, confinement and release. He said he would withhold a number of details "until I have had an opportunity to fully acquaint myself with the views and information of the appropriate officials in Washington."

The Russians, Barghoorn said, accused him of gathering intelligence during his employment in the U.S. Embassy in Moscow in the 1940s and on six trips he has made to the Soviet Union since 1947. Soviet studies are Barghoorn's specialty as a professor of political science. He has written several books on the Soviet Union and was gathering material for another when he was arrested.

The climate of suspicion in Russia is such, he said, that "one can be accused of conducting intelligence activity merely by walking down the street — especially if one has hostile intentions against the Soviet state; hostile, that is, in the opinion of the appropriate Soviet authorities."

A neighbor, James Wyckoff, arrived and Miss Reagan lowered herself and notified firemen.

Wyckoff climbed the rope and rescued 5-month-old Edward Brown and 3-year-old Joanne. Brown and his wife were at work.

Flames Race Over Block Of Hotels

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Staff Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Fire swept through a block of hotels and rooming houses just off the Atlantic City Boardwalk today, leaving 25 persons unaccounted for.

Flames destroyed four hotels and a rooming house and fire roared out of control through two more buildings. Fire also spread to three other buildings but was quickly extinguished.

The missing were guests at the Surfside Hotel, where the fire broke out shortly after 4 a.m. The Surfside was a kosher establishment catering mainly to elderly Jews.

Milton Rauer, owner of the Surfside, said 20 of the guests were year-round residents of the hotel and another 10 were there on short vacations from New York, Philadelphia and other cities.

"I'm fearful to say a number did not escape," Rauer said. "It went so quickly. A number of them were mostly elderly persons." The building was engulfed in flames in about five minutes, he said.

Atlantic City Hospital said 22 persons were treated there, two of them admitted.

"The night watchman smelled smoke and called me on the switchboard," Rauer said. "My first thought was to get my family out. I woke up my wife; she grabbed a dress, and then we woke up our three sons and my mother. We all jumped through a back window about 15 feet to the ground."

"In another minute or two the whole building would have collapsed on us."

Rauer said he had heard that about 12 of the guests escaped, but that he saw only four of them.

Mrs. Rauer said 30 guests were registered and all were in the building Sunday night, along with the Rauer family of six and the night watchman, Philip Johnson.

"We couldn't get out the front door. We got out through a window in our living quarters," Mrs. Rauer said.

The Rauers and Johnson got out unharmed.

Police said at least five of the 30 guests at the Surfside got out of the building.

A heavy wind from the ocean fanned the flames from the Surfside to seven other buildings on either side of it along Maryland Avenue, which intersects the Boardwalk. Three more buildings on Virginia Avenue behind the burning ones also caught fire but were quickly extinguished.

Louis Levine, an artist who lived across the street from the Surfside said he ran to the hotel and heard "screaming death wails. I panicked because the flames were too bright and I couldn't go in."

The fire was about three-fourths of a mile north of Convention Hall where the Democratic National Convention will be held next August.

The Surfside was the only hotel or rooming house that had guests, according to Police Sgt. James Mullen, one of the first men on the scene. The others were closed for the winter.

HARRIS SURVEY What About The Middle?

By LOUIS HARRIS

The way the voters see it, a Kennedy-Goldwater race for President in 1964 would pit an all-out "liberal" against an equally all-out "conservative."

Yet it is clear even now that the election itself will not be decided by those voters who consider themselves liberals or conservatives, but rather by those themselves politically in the "middle of the road."

Today Mr. Kennedy carries the liberal vote by better than 3 to 1, while Sen. Goldwater leads among conservatives by almost 2 to 1. Since there are more who classify themselves conservative than liberal in the country as a whole, these two results by themselves would produce a stand-off. The key, however, rests with middle-of-the-road voters — who now favor the President by 58-42 percent.

IN A SURVEY of a cross-section of voters in every part of the nation, people were first asked to classify themselves — liberal, conservative or middle of the road. They then were asked to classify Mr. Kennedy and the Arizona senator similarly on the political spectrum.

It comes as no surprise that Barry Goldwater is widely looked on by 7 out of every 10 voters as conservative.

GOLDWATER IMAGE
—Percent—
Middle-Conservative
Liberal Road Value

Voters Classify:
Sen. Goldwater	14	16	70
Themselves	24	42	34
Goldwater gap	-10	-26	36

Sen. Goldwater is thought to be fully 36 points more conservative than the voters feel they are themselves. However, this Goldwater gap is scarcely more significant than the comparable Kennedy gap at the other end of the political scale:

KENNEDY IMAGE
—Percent—
Middle-Conservative Liberal Road Value
Voters Classify:
President Kennedy	59	29	12
Themselves	24	42	34
Kennedy gap	35	-13	-22

THE GOLDWATER conservative gap of 36 points is just about offset by the Kennedy gap of 35 points. On political philosophy alone, neither man fits the prevailing view for the country as a whole.

When the voting preferences of liberals, conservatives and middle-of-the-roads are analyzed, it is immediately evident that the balance of power rests with the politically more numerous moderate group:

VOTING PREFERENCE
—Percent—
Middle-Conservative Liberal Road Value
Nation wide	56	22	22
Liberals	78	22
Middle-of-Roaders	58	42	34
Conservatives	35	-13	-22

A Kennedy-Goldwater race has been looked on by many as a potential, all out liberal-conservative clash, such as American politics has not seen in many years. Certainly the election itself sees it this way.

In fact, however, such a contest would probably find both men tending to crowd the middle-of-the-road track. Not only is this the tendency of most campaigners anyhow, but candidates have an instinctive way of gravitating where the balance of power rests.

Eight Killed In Wisconsin Road Crashes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Highway accidents in Wisconsin during the weekend claimed the lives of eight persons, four of them under the age of 25. The deaths, and two from earlier accidents, raised the state toll for the year to 784, compared with 838 on this date a year ago.

Mrs. Elizabeth Washa, 42, of rural Muskego, was killed and her husband and two daughters injured critically in the collision of the family car and another auto early Sunday morning at the intersection of Highway 131 and Beloit Road in Waukesha County.

Patricia Grimsvold, 22, of Cumberland died Saturday night when an imported car struck a tree near the crossing of Highway 70 and Washburn County Trunk M about 10 miles east of Spooner. Her sister, Donna, 19, was injured seriously. Authorities were unable to learn which girl was driving.

Gregory Dolenshek, 16, of West Allis was killed Sunday when the truck he was driving overturned after leaving Adams County Trunk C in the extreme northeast corner of the county. The youth was thrown from the truck, which rolled over him.

Chester Stickney, 17, of rural Sparta, died in a hospital in Sparta Saturday night of injuries received earlier in the day when he fell from a tractor and was run over by a spreader it was towing. The tractor was driven by Marvin Isensee, 14, on whose farm Stickney had been working. The mishap occurred on County Trunk Q about nine miles north of Sparta.

William Pingle, 70, a resident of the Winnebago County home, was killed Saturday night when he was struck by a car as he walked on Highway 41 about three miles northwest of Oshkosh.

Roy Betterly, 74, of New Richmond, died Saturday of injuries received in a two-car crash on Highway 63 about four miles north of Baldwin.

Weekend victims listed earlier were Dennis Loew, 17, of Bloomer, and Mrs. Mary Anne Donovan, 29, of rural Antioch, Ill.

Dennis Posz, 22, of Hudson, died during the weekend of injuries received Friday when his car skidded on a frost covered bridge near Hudson.

Ronald Wilkes, 36, of Belvidere, Ill., died Sunday in an Eau Claire hospital of injuries received in the Oct. 18 collision of two trucks on Highway 12 just east of Eau Claire. His death was the second resulting from the crash.

2 Youths Killed In Minneapolis Area Accidents

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A boy and a girl from suburban communities were fatally injured in separate accidents Sunday.

Dennis Eley, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson E. Eley of Columbia Heights, was dead on arrival at a hospital Sunday night after being struck on the head by a section that broke from a flag pole at Oakwood School in Columbia Heights. Police said he and another boy had been swinging on the pole.

Karen Mercer, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mercer of Richfield, died Sunday afternoon of injuries received in a horseback riding accident at a farm in nearby Eden Prairie.

Question of Jobs Upsets Economy

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The more the economy flexes its muscles the more controversial becomes the subject of jobs. This is a present day switch from the traditional linking of good times with lots of jobs. Just now it doesn't seem to work that way.

The paradox: employment climbs to a record, but the clamor over lack of jobs grows. And labor prepares to make this a prime issue in next year's contract negotiations.

President Kennedy tells the AFL-CIO leaders that the cure for today's ills lies in cutting taxes to create jobs by increasing demand for goods and funds for investment.

The labor organization's president, George Meany, tells the same convention that automation is a curse that "could bring

SBA Meeting Slated Dec. 4

ROCHESTER, Minn.—About 100 bankers from 12 Southeastern Minnesota counties are expected to attend a meeting with key officials of the Minneapolis regional office of the Small Business Administration here Dec. 4.

Harry A. Sieben, regional SBA director, said that the meeting is sponsored in cooperation with the Rochester Clearing House, Rochester banks and the SBA.

Sieben said SBA wants to continue its close relationship with banks in the region, which now participate in more than 90 percent of the loans to small firms in the region. The region, said Sieben, leads the nation in such participation.

The loan program will be reviewed at the Dec. 4 meeting. It includes the program for the local development company, which can obtain loans with maturities running as high as 25 years.

Bible Called Family Guide

"There is a guide for a happy human family; by following this guide, the Bible, families can overcome obstacles that stand in the way of having happiness," C. J. Miller told the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses Sunday.

Mr. Miller outlined several causes for unhappiness in families, such as selfishness, materialism and immorality. He stressed that all members of the family follow their scriptural role in the family. He cited the Biblical examples of Abraham, Sarah and Isaac.

Mr. Miller commented, "Abraham didn't allow his wife to take over running of the home whereas Sarah recognized her husband's headship."

The children in the audience were reminded of Isaac's obedience to his father and the divine command, "Children be obedient to your parents in the Lord, for this is righteous: 'Honor your father and (your) mother'."

Mr. Miller emphasized the father's leading role in spiritual matters in the home and the parents' responsibility to teach their own children.

Ike Supports Troop Cutback

WASHINGTON (AP)—Calling their present significance "not great" former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has urged a gradual cutback of U.S. ground troops in Europe that would eventually bring back five of six combat divisions home.

In an interview taped for Sunday's ABC radio and television program "Issues and Answers," Eisenhower added that the situation has changed since 1951, when the United States started to build up its military strength in Europe.

"Economies (in Western Europe) are now strong, they have great balances, many of them, in gold and it is time they were doing more of their work," he added.

Air Guardsman Dead in Crash

STONY CREEK, N.Y. (AP)—Exactly three months after he was plucked from the ocean by Russian fishermen, Capt. Hugh A. Lavallee guided his jet fighter through clouds over the Adirondack Mountains and disappeared.

That was Saturday. His remains were found Sunday in the wreckage of his Massachusetts Air National Guard plane 13 miles west of Stony Creek. The plane had slammed into a mountain.

Lavallee, 29, of Springfield, Mass., apparently had no chance to parachute, an Air Force spokesman said.

Three months ago, Lavallee ejected from a disabled jet over the Atlantic. He was pulled from the water by the crew of a Russian fishing trawler.

Cool Week Anticipated

Nippy, but not disagreeable, weather prevails in the Winona area today and is expected to continue into Wednesday, at least, when scattered snow flurries and much colder weather is predicted.

Increasing cloudiness and warmer is the forecast for tonight with the low 24-35. Tuesday will be partly cloudy with a high of 45.

THE EXTENDED forecast for the next five days, indicates temperatures generally will be near or a little below normal. Daytime highs are expected to be around 33-38 near the end of the week and 16-22 at night.

Much colder weather is slated to spread across Minnesota and Wisconsin Wednesday and continue rather cold thereafter except for a brief warming up Friday.

Precipitation is expected to average .10 to .25 of an inch from occasional light snow or snow flurries, mostly after the middle of the week.

Winona had a generally pleasant weekend, temperaturewise, with the mercury rising to 57 Saturday afternoon and 53 Sunday. Partly cloudy weather prevailed and rain measuring .06 of an inch fell Saturday night.

LOW SUNDAY morning was 43 and this morning 28. By noon today the reading was 47. It was sunny.

The temperatures a year ago in Winona ranged from a high of 36 to a low of 30. All-time high for Nov. 18 was 6° in 1841 and 1953 and zero in 1872 and 1891. Mean for the past 24 hours was 40. Normal for this day is 33.

Chilly weather prevailed in Northern Minnesota today with Bemidji reporting a low of 16 and St. Cloud 19. Rochester posted a low of 26 after a Sunday high of 50 and La Crosse had 33 and 51 for the same times.

But a warning of colder weather was contained in the report from Calgary, Canada, where the morning low was 4. It was snowing there. Skies began clearing in WIS.

CONSIDER today in the wake of a foggy, damp weekend that saw the southeastern corner of the state receive the most rain in four months.

Showers and thundershowers fell in varying amounts throughout Wisconsin Sunday and persisted into the early morning hours in the extreme eastern area. Heavy fog took over today as skies cleared in the west and north.

South Milwaukee recorded the most rain — 1.43 inches. Burlington had 1.27 inches, Racine 1.07, and Milwaukee .89.

Three Charged After Four Accidents Here

Four two-car traffic accidents in Winona Sunday resulted in damage of more than $1,400, according to police. Traffic citations were issued in three of the four crashes.

Emil F. Kujak, Junction Street and Highway 61, was charged with failure to yield the right of way after his car and a car driven by Earl H. Harris, 179 E. 4th St., collided at East Broadway and Carmona Street at 11:30 a.m.

City Traffic Box Score

	-To Date-
	1963 1962
Deaths	4 1
Accidents	349 331
Injuries	104 97
Damages	$69,465 $80,725

Police said that Harris was driving west on Broadway and Kujak east. Kujak attempted to make a left turn and the cars collided, said police. Damage was more than $200 to each car.

Kujak forfeited $15 bail in municipal court this morning.

DAMAGE OF MORE than $200 to each car and about $100 to a house resulted from an accident at East King and Hamilton streets at 8:30 p.m.

Police said cars driven by William K. Nelson, 253 W. Howard St., and John O. Dalleska, 760 E. Mark St., were involved. Nelson was driving north on Hamilton Street and Dalleska east on King Street, said police.

Police explained that the cars collided in the intersection and Dalleska's car jumped the north-east curb. His car then struck the front of the Theodore Decker residence, 550 E. King St.

Nelson and Dalleska each complained of pain following the accident, but neither required medical treatment.

Richard V. Mrozek, 72 High Forest St., was cited for careless driving after his car struck a parked car on Mankato Avenue about 45 feet south of East King Street at 9:05 p.m.

Police said his car struck a car owned by George A. Daley, Lewiston, Minn. Mrozek, who was traveling south, struck the rear of Daley's car, said police. Damage was more than $50 to each car.

THE FINAL accident occurred on Winona Street about 50 feet south of West Broadway at 9:44 p.m. Ralph R. Walezko, 921 E. Sanborn St., who was slightly injured, was charged with careless driving.

Police said his car struck the front of a parked car owned by Harry M. Brenden, 229 W. Broadway. Police claim that Walezko drove south through the stop sign at the intersection and struck Brenden's car.

Damage was more than $200 to each car.

Sentence Suspended In Shoplifting of Cans of Pork, Beans

An 81-year-old Winonan received a suspended sentence in municipal court today after he pleaded guilty to a charge of shoplifting.

Robert Duncan, Elgin Hotel, was sentenced by Judge John D. McGill to pay a fine of $35 or to serve 12 days. The sentence was suspended on condition that Duncan is not guilty of a similar offense during the next six months.

He was arrested by police at the A&P Store, West 2nd and Johnson streets, at 1:40 p.m. Saturday. Ralph Willard, store manager, made the citizen's arrest. He had taken several cans of pork and beans.

A survey reveals there are some 4,000 photographic clubs within the West German school system.

Driver Fined Total of $80

A 21-year-old La Crosse man, who said he would stay in jail after Judge John D. McGill sentenced him on four charges in municipal court this morning, paid his fines shortly before 1 p.m.

Donald J. Vondrasek was sentenced to pay fines totaling $80 or to serve 26 days in jail. He pleaded guilty to charges of failure to display his driver's license on the request of a police officer, failure to stop for a stop sign, speeding and having an open bottle of liquor in his car.

Sentences on the first two charges were $10 fines or three-day jail terms. The speeding charge involved $25 fine or eight days in jail and the open bottle, a $35 fine or 12 days in jail. Police described this morning's chase involved in Vondrasek's arrest. They said he first was noticed traveling west on 3rd Street and that he was speeding.

Towboats Collide at Homer

By FRANK UHLIG
Daily News Staff Writer

A towboat collision a half-mile above Homer Sunday at 11:15 p.m. sank a coal barge and left a loaded diesel fuel barge lying helplessly nearby with one compartment leaking slightly at the water line.

There were no apparent injuries in either crew.

COLLIDING almost head-on were the Lady Ree, headed downstream, and the Capt.

Buck Leyhe, going upstream. The Ree was pushing three barges loaded with diesel fuel and the Leyhe was moving four fully loaded coal barges. The tows hit near mile marker No. 720.

The danger of pollution is not serious at present, according to Deward Sweasy, lockmaster at Dam 6, Trempealeau, Wis., after a personal inspection at 10 a.m. today. Sweasy said the coal barge was aground and the oil barge was damaged, its deck 16 inches above the water line.

Oil leakage thus far is slight, Sweasy said, because the forward compartment of the barge was empty. The impact damaged seams, however, and he noticed one minor leak at the water line. A bulkhead in one of the loaded compartments apparently had been holed, he said.

Following the collision, both damaged barges, each of which had been the guide elements of the tows, were moved to the Wisconsin side of the channel. River traffic today was proceeding normally past the site of the accident.

AN EYEWITNESS account was given today by Robert Selover, whose home on Homer Road is almost directly opposite the point of impact. He and his wife were alerted when they heard a towboat whistle which they recognized as unusual for that area. Selover said:

"We've heard boats go by many times, but this was unusual. We looked out our living room window and saw a towboat (the Lady Ree) headed downstream. It seemed to be farther over toward the Wisconsin side than normal. We thought it would knock the mile marker over."

"Then we saw the other towboat coming upstream. We thought for a minute they weren't going to crash after all, then we heard the grating noise. The front end of the oil barge went under the coal barge. It was a helpless feeling, watching an accident and not being able to do anything about it."

After the collision, both towboats worked in vain for several hours to separate the two wrecked barges. When these efforts failed, they were detached and shunted out of the main channel.

Rate the two wrecked barges. When these efforts failed, they were detached and shunted out of the main channel.

Riding as a passenger on the Lady Ree was Lt. John W. Sutton, attached to the Dubuque Marine Inspection Office, U.S. Coast Guard. He indicated today that a formal investigation may be held and that neither captain would make any statements prior to such inquiry. They are Capt. A. E. Turner of the Lady Ree and Capt. M. L. Rodman of the Leyhe.

THE ACCIDENT occurred on a straight stretch of the river. Although there was no moon, the sky was clear and there was no fog, witnesses said. The Leyhe cleared Dam 6 at Trempealeau at 9:50 p.m. The Ree had gone through Lock 5-A at 10:15, headed downstream.

The five remaining barges of the tows were moored together at Homer this morning. The Ree, carrying both captains, docked this morning at the Shell Oil Co. terminal, 850 E. Front St., from where each reported to his respective towing company headquarters. The Leyhe remained at the scene. Lt. Sutton said all hands would stand by temporarily until initial investigations were made.

Apparently on its way to the accident scene, the Coast Guard cutter Fern locked through Dam 5-A today at 10:30 a.m., headed downstream.

Help the Hungry, Pastor Says in CROP Support

LEWISTON, Minn. — "For I was hungry and ye gave me food."

This Biblical admonition was recalled by the Rev. Walter Meyer in a sermon at three Winona County churches Sunday when he spoke in support of the county Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) which will be held next weekend.

Travis Nelson, county chairman and Future Farmers of America adviser here, will conduct a training session at Lewiston Village Hall at 8 p.m. Wednesday. FFA boys and others will make the collection Friday and Saturday.

Rev. Meyer, pastor of the United Church of Christ here, discussed the "Christian Answer to Hunger." The text, James 2:15-16: "If a brother or sister be naked and destitute of daily food, and one of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be ye warmed and filled; notwithstanding ye give them not these things which are needful to the body; what doth it profit?"

He termed that a secular answer to the problem, and that the Christian answer was in "I was hungry and ye gave me food."

Hunger exists today in many areas, said Rev. Meyer, in India, Jordan, Hong Kong and in Africa. Last week an undernourished child was even found in Anoka, Minn., said the pastor.

Farmers have been giving through CROP for many years for shipment overseas. Donors may specify a church agency which shall receive the gifts.

Youth Captured Near Arcadia

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — A Minnesota parole and probation officer was expected here this morning to get an 18-year-old Kellogg youth who has been working on the farm of William Walski Jr. on Oak Ridge near Arcadia.

Trempealeau County Sheriff Orris Klundby received a call at 7:30 a.m. Sunday from Walski, who said Hilary Lehnartz had been drinking lighter fluid. The sheriff found him at 8:45 a.m. on a town road about a mile from the Walski farm. Apparently in a stupor, he was walking without seeming to hear or see, the sheriff said. It took three men to subdue the youth, however.

An Arcadia doctor and ambulance were called and he was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, Arcadia. Later Sunday he was moved to the county jail here. Arthur Olson, Red Wing, was to get Lehnartz today and return him to the Red Wing Training School, from which he was on parole. According to information received from the sheriff here, he had been in the school several years for repeatedly running away from home.

COUNTY AGENT'S SALARY
ALMA, Wis. (Special) — A mistake was inadvertently made in the county's share of the salary for Archie Brovold, county agent in Friday's paper. It was raised from $395.62 to $309.15.

Drivers Licenses To Be in Plastic

You'll have to be careful when next spring rolls around, or you might try to charge your gasoline with your drivers license.

On the other hand, you may whip out your Carte Blanche card when the traffic officer asks to see your drivers license.

Yes, come spring, Minnesota drivers licenses will have gone the way of the credit card. They'll be made of plastic.

The new licenses will be slightly smaller than the present ones, and will have information embossed on them, rather than printed. They will be more difficult to alter or counterfeit, the Minnesota Highway Department points out, and will be more durable than the old licenses.

They're Knocking Loose Masonry Off Courthouse

The periodic landslide at the courthouse has started again, but this time it's on purpose.

A crew of workmen today is scaling the walls and roofs of the building to chip away loose rocks. A series of light-colored patches on the walls marks their progress. The spots are where old, loose rock has been chipped away, revealing the cleaner, hence lighter, stone beneath.

A courthouse janitor said that it has been years since similar work was last done on the building.

Asked if it was being done to keep winter weather from loosening the masonry further, he replied that even a normal rainfall caused some crumbling.

One benefit to deliberately causing the loose stone to fall: The ground beneath the walls has been roped off, so at least no one will be hurt.

$60,000 Damage Action to Begin

A suit for damages totaling $60,000 is scheduled to begin in District Court here at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

That amount is sought by Breitlow Funeral Home, Inc., 376 E. Sarnia St., in an action arising from a fire that damaged their new building Jan. 31, 1961.

The firm charges that alleged faults in design, controls and manufacture of the heating system installed in the new building were responsible for the fire.

In one cause of action Breitlow asks $30,000 damages and names the manufacturer, Tjernlund Manufacturing Co. and supplier, Comfortrol Supply Co., Minneapolis, and the heating contractor, Quality Sheet Metal Works, Winona.

Named in the second cause, also involving $30,000 damages, are Eckert & Carlson, Winona, architects for the building, and Olson, Emanuelson & March, Minneapolis, consulting engineers on the project.

Osseo Telephone Firms Ordered To Develop Plan

OSSEO, Wis. — The Wisconsin Public Service Commission has ordered General Telephone Co. of Wisconsin and Beef River Valley Telephone Co. here to work out a plan within 20 days that would give telephone service to Osseo in the same way that would be done by a single utility.

The PSC recommended that both companies study alternative solutions, including operation by lease or sale to a third party, lease or sale by one company to the other, or a plan of cooperative operation.

RESTRAINING orders imposed on both companies Sept. 27, 1961, were continued. At that time General Telephone had filed a complaint against Beef River Valley preventing it from constructing or installing new facilities. At the same time the commission issued an injunction against General restraining it from making extensions or improvements pending PSC investigation.

PSC said the restrictions were necessary so the two suppliers and the commission could arrive at a solution for providing service at standards set by the commission, a single set of rates and divisions of revenue based on property of each firm providing service.

ROBERT PROSSER, Turtle Lake, vice president of Beef River Valley, said another attempt would be made by his company to resolve the situation of two phone companies here.

Prosser said Beef River has attempted to buy General Telephone Co., Beef River has offered to sell to General and to Tri-County Telephone Co-op, and has attempted to operate in conjunction with General.

"But General never sells, it only buys," Prosser said. "General hauled us into court eight months ago when we proposed a joint phone book," he said. He said Beef River attempted to purchase half of General's building here to effect a joint operation.

THERE HAS been no talk between Beef River and General about leasing the facilities here to each other or to a third party. However, Prosser said, Tri-County Co-op of Pleasantville, Strum, Eleva, Elk Creek and Independence has attempted to purchase both Beef River and General exchanges. Prosser said his company agreed to sell but General refused.

The delay will hinder Beef River's attempt to cut over to dial by spring, Prosser said, prohibiting the stringing of five or six miles of new cable.

Prosser proposed letting customers of both General and Beef River vote on which of the three PSC solutions they would prefer.

Gettysburg
Address
Enduring

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg Address is an "enduring memorial to the apostles of liberty for all men," Secretary of State Dean Rusk declared Sunday.

Rusk recalled that it was Lincoln who, 100 years ago in this historic battlefield, rededicated this country to "the ideas about freedom and human dignity which gave birth to our nation."

He called upon all Americans to complete the task of creating full equality in the spirit of Lincoln's classic speech.

The secretary spoke at the opening of a three-day observance of the Gettysburg address centennial.

"It is past time to complete the task which Lincoln began with the Emancipation Proclamation," he said. "We must complete it as a duty to ourselves."

"The rest of the world is watching closely the struggle for full equality in this country. Our failures distress our friends and hearten our enemies."

U.N. Stamps
Bought for $2
Bring $10,400

NEW YORK (AP)—A college student has assured the financing of his education by selling 50 misprinted United Nations postage stamps for $10,400.

The unidentified Bronx youth purchased 50 of the misprints for $2 on the first day of their issue, Feb. 28, 1962. Several weeks ago, he sold them to wholesale stamp dealer Julius Stalow of J. & H. Stalow, Ind. for $208 each.

Stalow said Sunday the young man "knew right away what he had" when he returned home from the U.N. with the stamps.

The misprinted stamps commemorate the U.N.'s housing and community facilities. But they are minus the black-imprinted words "Housing and Community facilities," which should be centered on the left side, then continued halfway across the top.

Also missing from the seven-color misprints are several areas of black shading on houses that make up most of the stamp's design.

Stalow said he sold most of the stamps to dealers for $275 each, suggesting that dealers resell them to collectors for $390 apiece. At that retail price the misprinted stamps will be sold for about $20,000.

The body of Miss Lenora Lundgren, 44, was found by police after they were alerted by the worried brother of the victim.

Capt. Paul Pirello, of Rockford police, said the brother, Howard Lundgren, related that his sister had left their home early in the afternoon. She left a note saying that she had some work to do at the Kishwaukee Dairy, which Lundgren owns.

When Miss Lundgren failed to return home her brother looked for her at the dairy, said Capt. Pirello, but was unable to find her. Lundgren then called police, who located the body.

It was not immediately apparent what was used as the murder weapon, Pirello said.

Pirello said police were questioning a 17-year

City More Cleanup Conscious

IT WOULD appear that the city is more cleanup conscious these days than it has been in a long time. A great deal of interest has been aroused by the discussions in city governmental circles respecting downtown renewal and private owners have made commendable, effective efforts to upgrade many commercial properties.

Once again, we're getting into the season when one of the chief enemies of clean streets and buildings begins to swirl about on the winter breezes. That offender is coal smoke.

No one, of course, is about to advocate that everyone forthwith get rid of his coal furnace. On the other hand, clearing up the smoke situation is not an impossible task. And it's one that should be done.

THERE ARE several good reasons for trying to eliminate the clouds of smoke that frequently blanket downtown areas:

First, there's the obvious one of consideration for surrounding areas. Keeping outside surfaces clean, when they're constantly exposed to sooting, is impossible. Our old buildings, bad as some of them are, would look far more attractive to visitors if they could be cleaned up and kept that way.

The economic aspect here is pretty plain because we are told, over and over, that an inviting appearance is a powerful factor in attracting customers. Increased traffic and better business is something that naturally interests everyone.

ANOTHER MAJOR concern is the problem of air pollution. Winona's location is one where atmospheric conditions are relatively stable. Fog and smog tend to collect readily in this low lying area. An outpouring of great quantities of smoke is an additional and unhealthy aggravation of this situation.

Medical studies now show a greater incidence of chest and lung illnesses in cities having smog problems. Our own rather high rate of such ailments may well be related to excess amounts of airborne impurities. Smoke, gases and dust do not disperse very rapidly in the rather sluggish atmosphere of this river valley region.

Finally, there is the matter of economical operation. Most maintenance engineers recognize that a heavy volume of smoke means inefficient firing and therefore higher costs.

OPERATORS OF coal fired heating plants do not have to look far to find helpful advice. Boiler engineering classes are offered through the public schools adult education program. Members of the National Association of Power Engineers chapter here are available as advisers. The city building inspector, who is charged with enforcement of smoke control, may be consulted at any time.

Enlightened self interest, if nothing else, should make clearing up the smoke problem a matter of real interest to everyone.

The city would benefit tremendously if a real job were done in this area. It could very well begin with governmental buildings and go on from there.

SHOULD YOU stop and help out when you happen on the scene of an accident? The way things are going these days, it's better to be a suppressed Samaritan. You're less likely to be sued later for possible complications which an accident victim may suffer as the result of your efforts at assistance.

In today's claim-conscious society, the helping hand frequently is soundly bitten. Even doctors are not exempt from the ingratitude of accident victims. Physicians, stopping to give first aid to injured persons, have later been sued for malpractice on the grounds they administered the wrong treatment. In New York, a bystander, trying to stop a man from assaulting a woman, was hurt and later sued. He learned he had stepped in the middle of a legal disagreement between a husband and wife.

LOOKS AS IF it's best just to mind your own business. It's a hard hearted world.

Congress sends the President a 47-billion-dollar defense bill. Taxpayers will get the bill later.

The first U.S. satellite powered by a nuclear generator is in orbit. The prediction is that it will remain there for 900 years. If it sends back radio signals all that time it'll become a bore.

HOW DO YOU STAND, SIR?

What About Young Demos?

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

Democratic cries of pained anguish about the Young Republican convention in California recently grew strangely silent when the Young Democrats held their own western conference advocated such embarrassing thing as resumption of diplomatic relations with Cuba and full recognition of Red China.

When cornered about the extremism of the Western Young Democrats, party leaders expressed only mild disagreement, saying, in effect, that kids will be kids and that they—the older Democrats—could not possibly agree with such things.

The facts, however, somehow belie these disclaimers, and, if anything, make the youngsters look like a watered-down version of the real thing.

Most of the policies of the New Frontier for instance, are shaped by a collection of current and former members of Americans for Democratic Action, and their views on just about every major issue, domestic or foreign, go at least as far as the Young Democrats went, and in a great many cases farther.

In a call last June to all American Reds to support groups which are "within the orbit of the Democratic Party" during the 1964 elections, Gus Hall, national secretary of the Communist Party, U.S.A., deplored the phasing out of ADA's usefulness as a supporter of "mass movements," saying: "It has lost much of its effectiveness because of its close identity with the administration."

OF THE 50 CURRENT and former members of ADA brought into government by Mr. Kennedy, many hold the highest policy-making and advisory posts and have pressed consistently for ADA programs.

Among these are Adlai Stevenson, our U.N. ambassador, who has denied membership, but who has been identified by other old-time ADAers as a founder of the organization; Arthur Goldberg, formerly Mr. Kennedy's Secretary of Labor and now a Justice of the Supreme Court; Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman; Theodore C. Sorenson, special counsel to and speech writer for the President; Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., a former chairman of ADA who now is J.F.K.'s administrative assistant; Assistant Secretary of State Chester Bowles; G. Mennen "Soapy" Williams, Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs; Housing and Home Finance Administrator Robert C. Weaver, and John Kenneth Galbraith and James Loeb, our former ambassadors to India and Peru, respectively.

OTHER ADAers are key New Frontier spokesmen in the Senate, the House, in industry, business, organized labor, civic and fraternal organizations and just about every field imaginable. That they influence the policies of and speak for the Kennedy administration is undeniable.

There also is the question of the now infamous collection of essays, "The Liberal Papers," compiled under the guidance of present and former liberal Democrats in the House and which has been labeled by Republican National Chairman William E. Miller as "going beyond the Communist line."

The Kennedy administration publicly has stated that the views expressed in the work are "contrary" to its own, but nevertheless has pressed forward on many of the programs it recommends. Some of the authors of the essays even have been named by Mr. Kennedy to key posts in the administration. An example is Marcus Raskin, a special staff member of the National Security Council and an adviser on our disarmament delegation.

THE ELDER Democrats of the West in particular would do well to refer to a typical example of their own views—the platform of the Washington State Democratic Party adopted at Bellingham, Wash., June 21, 1962—and compare it with the document of the younger westerners. A delegate to the Washington Convention which adopted it stalked out, saying:

"... what they have here is the Communist Manifesto. If I had stayed and voted with them, I would have been excommunicated from my church."

In any discussion of extremism—of the left or of the right—these would be points for all good Democrats to keep in mind.

How do you stand, sir?

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

U.S. Cuts Own Throat With Foreign Subsidies

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — More details can now be told about the foreign-aid fiasco in steel — how American generosity has built up foreign steel industries, putting dozens of our own mills out of production and thousands of workers out of work.

By unofficial count, 179 foreign steel plants have received American loans or grants since World War II. This aid has enabled them to install machines and adopt techniques more modern than our own.

Thus the U.S. steel industry through its tax payments not only has helped to finance its foreign competitors but has obligingly provided them with better equipment.

No wonder the American share of the world's steel output had dropped from 46 percent in 1950 to 25 percent today. U.S. steel products have been pushed out of two thirds of their former markets, causing a sharp production slump.

FOREIGN mills built at American expense are now turning out wire and rod so cheaply, for instance, that imports have captured 30 percent of the U.S. market. Even steel plate, the bread-and-butter of the industry, is beginning to roll in from abroad.

Typical example: With the best of intentions, Uncle Sam helped to rebuild Japan's war-wrecked steel industry until it is now taking customers away from U.S. mills.

From 1955 until 1960, 10 great Japanese steel works received foreign aid grants amounting to $155,300,000. Nine more mills were granted Export-Import Bank loans, totaling $121,100,000. The Yawata Iron and Steel Company, for example, received a $5,300,000 grant in 1955, a $26,000,000 loan in 1957, another $20,000,000 grant in 1959, and still another $26,000,000 loan in 1962. Its blast furnaces are now producing more steel than most American mills.

EVEN AS French President Charles De Gaulle was tightening the screws on American products, Uncle Sam doled out four separate loans totaling $6,556,000 to France's giant Union Sud Du Nord Steel Works in 1960-61. A smaller $66,000 grant went to Miferm, another French steel company.

Dictator Franco got $59,513,000 in grants for nine Spanish steel plants, the largest an $18,000,000 grant for the Altos Hornos Vizcaya Works in 1961. The Empresa Nac Siderurgica mills received several American grants, the latest a $6,600,000 payment last year.

In Latin America, Mexico and Argentina received the most U.S. aid. Altogether 22 Mexican steel plants collected $90,780,236 from Uncle Sam, then promptly began shipping steel plate across the border to U.S. customers. Another 22 Argentine plants received $88,580,560 in U.S. handouts.

The only Communist country whose steel production got a U.S. boost was Yugoslavia. Uncle Sam granted the Yugoslavs $15,000,000 to purchase a U.S. steel mill in 1961. Earlier, Yugoslavia's Niksic Iron Works was given $5,610,000 in American counterpart funds.

The largest single grant was arranged in 1959 by Tom Dewey, the two-time GOP presidential candidate, for Turkey's Eregli steel mill. Amount $129,600,000.

THE LOAN was granted, incidentally, while Vance Brand was the government's development loan chief. He promptly retired from the loan fund to become a high-paid consultant and later a director of Koppers, the company that did the engineering on the Turkish steel plant.

Even our prosperous northern neighbor, Canada, once received a $7,700,000 Export-Import loan to aid her steel industry.

Around the world, foreign steel mills have been subsidized by the American taxpayers. Unhappily, the American desire to better the world has reached the point that we are in danger of crippling the goose which lays the golden eggs.

U.N. SECRETARY General U. Thant has complained privately that the nations which like to talk the most at the U.N. often contribute the least toward its upkeep. He told visitors that the world organization is desperately hard up, yet has been able to sell only $70 million worth of U.N. bonds outside of the United States. The American government has offered to match bond purchases by the rest of the world up to $100 million. Premier Chou En-lai is preparing a secret report for the Chinese Communist Congress next week on the Chinese-Russian split. He is waiting for the latest word from Moscow, where European Communist leaders are debating whether to kick Red China out of the Communist brotherhood. Chou is reported to be eager to patch up relations. The French have flatly refused to participate in East-West talks to ease world tensions. The French contend that the Kremlin created the tensions, therefore can ease them anytime they want without negotiations. French President De Gaulle sent word, however, that France might join discussions later if anything significant developed. American Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge has reported that the military junta has been filling key posts in the new Viet - Nam government with pro-French administrators, including some who fought for the French against the Vietnamese nationalists during colonial days.

HE CHOSE TO CLEAN UP

ALBUQUERQUE — A 22-year-old youth spent 45 minutes recently sweeping the sidewalk and gutter on both sides of Cooper Street NW, between Fourth and Fifth, rather than spend 10 days in jail for breaking beer bottles in the area.

The young man, charged with violation of the anti-litter ordinance, was given his choice of sweeping the sidewalk or spending a few days in jail, by Municipal Judge James A. Maloney.

He chose to sweep and the city provided him a broom.

HEMELINE DRACHMA

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Mrs. Wilson Beatty is still wondering how a Greek coin found its way into the hem of a tightly stitched dress. After the dress was dry-cleaned once, she noticed an unusual weight, investigated and discovered the coin. There was no tear anywhere in the garment.

The coin was a 10 drachma, worth about 3/2 cents in U.S. money.

MILLION-DOLLAR GIFT

RUSSELLVILLE, Ky. — Every community should have the problem faced by Russellville's City Council. It must figure out a way to spend a $1 million gift. The money represents the bulk of the estate of the late Thomas P. de Graffenried, a native of Russellville who became a successful New York lawyer.

The will, which was not contested by heirs living in New York, stipulated that the money was to be used for all people, regardless of race, age, sex or color.

TODAY IN NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Trouble Aplenty In This World

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — American foreign policy is floundering because of a lack of understanding of the responsibility of the President and the Congress, respectively, in the field of foreign relations. The Constitution gives the President the right to carry on negotiations and make agreements with other countries but gives to Congress the right to appropriate any money needed to carry out foreign policy.

Mr. Kennedy is complaining that Congress is interfering with the conduct of foreign policy because it wants to cut down "foreign aid" appropriations or impose limitations or conditions on how the money should be spent. The President said in his news conference on Thursday:

"This program (foreign aid) is essential to the conduct of our foreign policy, and, therefore, I am asking the Congress of the United States to give me the means of conducting the foreign policy of the United States, and if they do not want to do so, then they should recognize that they are severely limiting my ability to protect the interests. That is how important I think this program is."

"I think it is a very dangerous, untidy world, but we're going to have to live with it, and I think one of the ways to live with it is to permit us to function. Then, if we don't function, the voters will throw us out. But don't make it impossible for us to function by legislative restraints or inadequate appropriations."

Mr. Kennedy's words come at a time when the conduct of foreign policy by the United States is largely opportunistic. The course has not been charted clearly, and the policies vary in different parts of the world. Only a few weeks ago, the American people were assured that the signing of the nuclear test-ban treaty meant a new era in the relations of this country with Russia. Since that time, the Soviets have started provocative procedures on the autobahn in and around Berlin as American armored vehicles have been stopped in their lawful trips to the city of Berlin conducted according to World War II agreements.

INSTEAD of a peaceful relationship, there now are signs of irritation on both sides. Within the last few days, a Yale professor, Frederick C. Barghorn, has been arrested in the Soviet Union and charged with espionage. Formal protests were promptly made by the United States. President Kennedy publicly has stated that Mr. Barghorn "was not an intelligence mission of any kind."

As a consequence of the development of an atmosphere of friction between the two countries, President Kennedy found himself puzzled by the Soviet course. He was asked at his news conference whether the Soviets may be seizing innocent Americans "with the hope of somehow extracting political concessions from us."

He replied: "Obviously, they would not be successful. I wouldn't attempt to make a judgment as to the conduct of the Soviet Union or what may motivate it from week to week, day to day, but I am certain—it is quite obvious that if it is based on the presumption you state, that it will not be successful."

MR. KENNEDY was asked, of course, about the wheat deal. He promptly insisted that it was not affected by the general situation and "pretty much stands on its own." Yet this is the very thing that upsets many members of Congress. They feel the United States should not be doing things for Russia without getting better treatment in all its relationships.

At times Mr. Kennedy gives the impression that the foreign-aid program is a one-way street and that the United States would be making a mistake to insist upon any conditions when it gives away taxpayers' money. This, however, tends

Letters to The Editor

Let's Stop Thinking of Retirement Town

To the Editor:

In regard to the letters concerning the building of a motel by Lake Winona.

It seems that most people who are opposed to the construction of a motel by Lake Winona are concerned about the effect such a motel will have on the beauty of the area.

Recently, my wife and I returned from a hunting trip in Northern Minnesota. On the way home we had the good fortune to travel along the beautiful North Shore of Lake Superior. Along the highway entering Duluth, there are some of the most beautiful motels I have ever seen. I am sure if I would have asked the local folks or the passing tourists what they thought of these so-called eyesores, the majority would have said that motels of that sort add to the beauty of the area, not degrade it.

About the exact location site of the motel, what is so beautiful about the low corner of an unused, weed infested portion of Lake Winona? (Nothing!)

Winona should welcome the opportunity to have another taxpaying establishment regardless of location. Let's stop thinking of Winona as a town to retire and die in, but rather a town to grow and prosper in. Let's take a little more concern about the progress and the growth of our city and have a little less worry on the effect a motel is going to have on the corner of our lake.

Roy Hazelton

to encourage the smaller countries to play Russia against the United States, which also is one of the factors that militates against the foreign-aid program.

WHAT IS most disturbing at the moment is that, despite every effort on the part of this country to establish friendly relations with the Soviet Union, there is no reciprocity between the Moscow government. The State Department, of course, has felt compelled to postpone—and may cancel—the extension of the cultural exchange program, negotiations for the renewal of which were scheduled to begin Tuesday. Likewise, restrictions of the travel in the United States by Soviet-bloc diplomats have been made. The President points out that the Soviet Union keeps 26 per cent of its area "off limits" to the United States and that this country is now applying the same percentage.

This was the first time, according to Mrs. Robert Beckman, chairman, that such a party has been given, but plans are to make it an annual event.

Graduate Student Talks on Africa At Wesleyan Guild

Miss Olive Tovson, recently returned from Africa where she taught for five years, presented an interesting and informative film on the Cameroons at the meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild Thursday.

The people of Africa, explained Miss Tovson, still lead a primitive existence. The majority of the people sleep on the floor, as they have no beds. Their main food is manioc, a native plant from which a starchy substance is obtained.

Miss Tovson further explained that Cameroon, where she taught is a school attended by children of missionaries, is twice the size of Minnesota, with a population about that of Chicago. It is five degrees from the equator, but because of its high elevation, the temperature is pleasantly warm. The rainy season lasts seven months of the year, followed by five months of dry weather, with no rain. Twenty percent of the population is Christian, 20 percent moslem and 60 percent pagan. There are over 200 different tribes in Cameroon. Seventy-eight percent of the children are in school, where they learn to speak French. The Communist Party is outlawed in Cameroon.

Christianity is doing much to help the African people, she said. Missionaries are teaching methods of modern sanitation. Because of the presence of harmful bacteria, all drinking water must be boiled before use.

Miss Tovson is a member of the Lutheran Church; she is presently attending Winona State College where she is working on her master's degree. She plans to return to Africa upon completion of her education.

Miss Pauline Utzinger, president of Wesleyan Service Guild, presided at the business session. She announced the Yuletide Festival to be held at the Paul Watkins Memorial Methodist Home on Thursday.

Miss Eileen Hewitt requested Guild members to bring to the next meeting their Christmas gifts for patients at the Etta Del Rest Home.

The following nominating committee was selected to present a slate of officers in April: The Misses Florence Caswell, Angelyn DeGroot, Mildred Arndt and Katherine Wasnoska.

Mrs. E. Clayton Burgess will be hostess to Guild members at her home next Monday evening.

Devotions, which centered around the Thanksgiving theme, were in charge of Mrs. Victor Gilbertsen and the Misses Fern Ellison and Mildred Arndt.

A Modest Dreamhouse for Any Size Family

From coast to coast young couples spend Sunday afternoons in search of a medium priced six-room home with three bedrooms, an attractive exterior and an up-to-date room arrangement.

Two main obstacles stand in their way:

- The homes in many developments simply don't offer the individuality, much less the livability, that middle-income families feel their hard earned money should bring.
- If they are lucky enough to find this dreamhouse, and move in, there's a strong possibility that a family population explosion would soon force them to flee to a larger but less desirable house, with a financial loss that in many cases would be crippling.

MOST COUPLES in this category simply can't afford the gamble—and there's no need to if they choose today's House of the Week; it was selected

H-3 Statistics

A 1½-story home of three bedrooms and 1½ baths with upstairs expansion for two additional bedrooms and full bath. Basic area is 1,299 square feet; expansion attic is 675 square feet (full height ceilings); garage and utility room add 366 square feet; front portico 123 square feet; full cellar of 1,299 square feet. Over-all dimensions 53'2" wide by 51' deep. Recommended plot: 70' by 100'.

specifically to solve this two-fold problem.

The house is a quietly elegant three-bedroom model of traditional design which encompasses a basic area of only 1,299 square feet. It's the product of architect Samuel Paul and is design H-3 in the weekly series.

Its greatest attraction is an expansion attic, made possible by a spacious rear dormer, which will add two more enormous bedrooms, a full bath, and an abundance of closet and storage space.

BEST OF ALL, the space can be developed piecemeal as the need arises and much of the work can be done by a handy husband because the basic space is already built and paid for.

Meanwhile the still-young family can enjoy the imaginative and sensible downstairs layout with its sunken living room, efficient kitchen with plenty of countertop space, breakfast room with a glamorous bay window, nicely located laundry, mud room, main-level bathroom, attached garage, and such other touches as a cathedral ceiling in the foyer and beamed ceilings in the living and dining rooms.

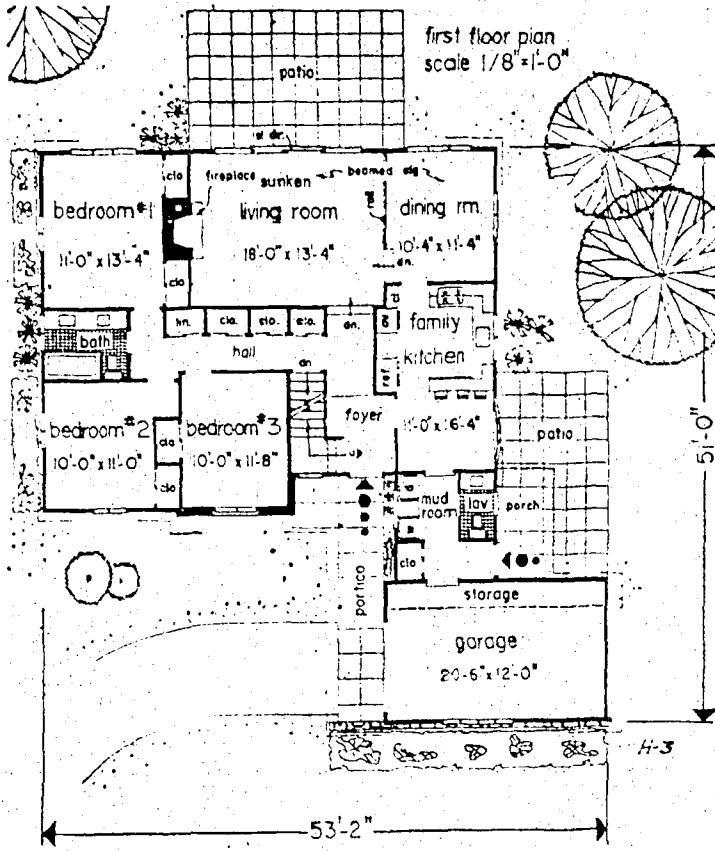

THE UPSTAIRS expansion will add 675 square feet of living area when it is completed. This is not "emergency" space, but offers full eight-foot-high flat ceilings, a bath with double vanity, a dressing alcove in one of the rooms, and a dramatic balcony overlooking the downstairs foyer.

The lower three bedrooms also are equipped with ample closets and all are within a few steps of the main bath. Closet space in this house actually deserves special mention.

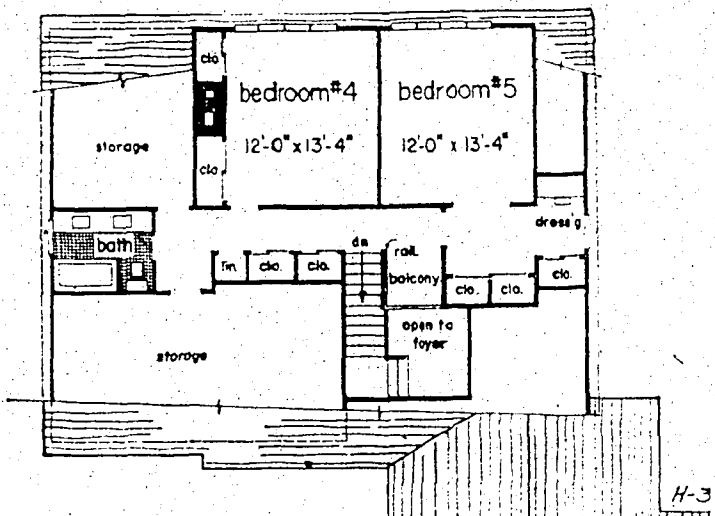

HIDDEN EXPANSION: This lovely three-bedroom home has a spacious rear dormer which allows for expansion of an additional two bedrooms and bath when the need arises. Its basic area is a modest 1,299 square feet.

FLOOR PLANS: The attic expansion would add an additional 675 square feet to the basic area of 1,299 square feet which doesn't include the portico, garage and utility room. The house has a full basement of 1,299 square feet.

How to Build, Buy Or Sell Your Home

Full study plan information on this architect-designed House of the Week is included in a 50-cent baby blueprint. With it in hand you can obtain a contractor's estimate.

You can order also, for $1, a booklet called "YOUR HOME—How to Build, Buy or Sell it." Included in it are small reproductions of 16 of the most popular House of the Week issues.

When fully developed there are no less than 18 closets with 125 feet of shelves and 52 feet of hanging space.

THE SUNKEN living room has a 9'3" ceiling height, a grand fireplace, and connects through sliding glass doors to the rear patio. An attractive balcony rail separates it from the corner dining room, and both rooms combined provide an expanse of more than 28 feet overlooking the rear terrace.

The family kitchen is nicely located with an excellent view of the side play terrace and only a few steps from both the main entry and service entry. Washer and dryer, and a handy mud room closet, also are nearby, and a sheltered service porch adjoins the side entry behind the garage.

THE EXTERIOR features a charming covered portico with graceful arches. A low stone wall across the garage shields

Ettrick Woman Erects Building

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — Work has started on a new building on Main Street, between Harvey's Country Store and the Erickson Oil Co. office. The building, being erected by Mrs. Harlan Tolokken to house a beauty shop, will be a one-story frame structure with basement, 20 by 30 feet. Minard Stenberg and a crew are doing the work.

the garage door from the street view. With its diamond-paned windows and cupola atop the garage wing, the house offers a facade which will be popular for years to come.

Though it appears considerably larger the home actually has modest over-all dimensions — only 53'2" wide by 51' deep. Architect Paul suggests a 70' by 100' plot to take full advantage of its L-shaped design.

Let's Get Growing

By A. F. SHIRA

Some Late Suggestions

We had two inquiries last week in regard to digging and storing dahlia tubers. It was thought that all gardeners had dug their dahlias by this time, but evidently not, the delay probably due to the mild weather that has prevailed.

In digging dahlia tubers, each clump should be handled very carefully so that the narrow neck that connects each tuber to the crown is not broken. The stalk should be cut off within an inch or two of the crown.

The clumps can be dried in the sun for a few hours until the soil that may be clinging to them is sufficiently dry so that it can be shaken, or brushed, off. If the soil is quite heavy and wet, it can be washed off with a hose before drying.

Next, the clumps can be packed in boxes, or cartons, and stored in the basement, or cellar. They should not be allowed to dry out or freeze. If the basement is rather warm, it is well to cover the tubers with sand, peat moss, or sawdust. Or they can be wrapped carefully in paper, or burlap. The individual tubers should not be separated from the main stem until they are to be planted in the spring.

THE DAHLIA tuber, so-called, is not a tuber strictly speaking, but rather an enlarged fleshy root. Therefore, it is apt to dry out more quickly while in storage than a bulb such as a gladiolus corm. If an occasional examination during the winter indicates that the tubers may be too dry, a light sprinkling should be given them. However, they should not be stored where they are likely to absorb dampness. Canna tubers can be handled in the same way as dahlias.

Perhaps the vegetable garden has been cleaned up, but if this work has not been done, it can be completed now, even if the ground is frozen. Old vines, corn stalks, weeds and other plant refuse can be raked up and placed on the compost pile.

Stakes and other plant supports can be taken up and stored. This will lessen the work that must be done in the spring.

A MULCH should be applied to the strawberry bed as soon as the surface of the ground is frozen. This can consist of leaves, marsh hay, or straw. Old corn stalks, tomato vines, or other coarse plant materials can be scattered over the mulch to hold it down until this job is taken over by a good fall of snow.

Newly planted trees should have some protection during the first winter. This can be done by spirally wrapping the trunk of each tree with a strip of heavy paper, or burlap. A mulch at the base will be beneficial. If exposed to strong winds, the trunk can be tied to two stakes driven into the ground on opposite sides. Of course, all newly planted trees and shrubs should be well soaked with water before the ground becomes frozen.

LAST WEEK we protected our young fruit trees for the winter against rabbits and mice by enclosing the trunks with cylinders of hardware cloth and poultry netting of small mesh. The wire cylinders were inserted about two inches into the ground and extended about two feet above it, or up to the lowest branches.

Our apple trees are of the dwarf type. For a small yard, or even for a large one, we are very partial to dwarf fruit trees, which can now be obtained in apples, plums, pears, apricots and cherries. The little trees which may reach a height of eight feet or so are easy to care for, can be planted as close together as ten feet, bear earlier, and the fruit is as large as that on standard trees. If you want to try some fruit trees in your yard, do not overlook the dwarf types on true dwarfing stock.

If any of our readers have any questions about the winter care of trees, shrubs, or other plants, feel free to write us and we will endeavor to answer them.

Can YOU Identify This House?

Homeward Steps at the entrance of a house immediately exemplify the owner as a person of smart, stylish, and practical tastes. These top quality Steps have proven themselves to be a wise investment because they need no ordinary maintenance, even after years and years of wear. They're constructed to a full 2" thick reinforced concrete. This is important to you because there are some "skimp" steps now on the market that are only a little over half as thick (and naturally can't be expected to last as long nor be as strong).

Homeward Steps are easier to install, too, because they are separate sectional construction instead of a cumbersome, awkward entire unit to wrestle into place. It is also important to remember that should a step be damaged (perhaps a truck backs into it or someone drops a heavy object on it) it is practical to replace ONLY the damaged section NOT THE WHOLE EXPENSIVE UNIT!

Through extensive testing and nationwide research it has been found that Homeward 6-inch risers are the best walking and climbing height for elderly people and children — with patented non-skid surfaces for increased safety. INSIST ON THE FINEST — insist on Union Made, HOMeward STEPS. THEY COST NO MORE! Phone 8-1533 for a Free estimate.

IMPORTANT — No Salt or so-called Ice Removers should ever be used on Homeward Steps or any other concrete product.

You Can Do Specialized Interior Wall Painting

The do-it-yourselfer can duplicate many of the specialized wall effects used by leading interior designers to give added interest and flair to their creations.
Textured paint gives depth to the walls and its handsome, rough finish blends beautifully with all decor styles. In addition, the heavy consistency of texture paint fills small holes and cracks, making it the perfect camouflage for old, scarred walls that would normally require replastering.
While the texture paint is still wet, create a random pattern by going over the surface with a special roller, whisk broom, comb or other object that will make a design. Decorators often give a texture finish an individual touch by drawing stylized birds, plants and other assorted figures and designs. Simply draw free hand an outline of whatever you choose, using an unsharpened pencil or similar object. If you wish to make the impressions more outstanding, fill them in with a slightly deeper color when dry.
Stripping is another fashionable wall treatment. Paint the walls in the chosen background color. Let dry. Then, using masking tape, which must be securely fastened to the surface, can attach it within minutes... that there are four different sizes from eight to 14 inches... and that the drawers can be obtained finished or unfinished.
THE PRODUCT—A clear, face, mark off the areas to be striped in the desired widths. Paint these designated areas in the contrasting color of your preference. Let them dry thoroughly, then remove tape.

Stippling the walls produces a decorative effect and gives them dimension. Paint the walls the background color and let them completely dry. Then, using a stippling roller—they come in a wide assortment of design-producing sleeves—go over the dry walls in a contrasting color of your choice. If you wish, you can create a random, mottled effect by applying the color to be stippled with a sponge or crumpled paper. Stippling covers a multitude of "sins" as well as giving a unique extra touch; the patterned finish hides small surface irregularities.
The multi-color wall enjoys great popularity, probably because it appeals to all age brackets and both the feminine and masculine tastes. Multi-color paint produces two or more colors at one time from one source. Its color flecked pattern makes dirt smudges and surface marks unnoticeable. For this reason, multi-color is as practical as it is handsome. Applied by spray or roller, multi-color comes in a wide assortment of color combinations.

"These rumors have been flying ever since we have been married," Rockefeller commented as both he and his wife laughed.
The governor has four living children by his first marriage. His wife also has four children by her first marriage.

Colts, Unitas Trip Vikings, Bears Tumble Packers

— VIKINGS —

Last Ditch Scoring Pass Is Difference

MINNEAPOLIS — Baltimore's old pros, the lingering evidence of a once-great era for the Colts, collaborated Sunday for a throbbing last-second touchdown that snatched an apparent victory from the Minnesota Vikings.

Johnny Unitas, Ray Berry and Jimmy Orr, heroes of Baltimore's glory days in the National Football League, engineered a touchdown with five seconds to play that tumbled the Vikings' upset ambitions 37-34 before 33,136 fans in Metropolitan Stadium.

The Colts swept 88 yards in seven plays in the final 45 seconds.

Unitas' long pass was hauled down on a great effort by Berry for a 45-yard gain that set up the winning touchdown at the Viking 13-yard line.

Then Orr faked rookie Minnesota defender Lee Calland nearly out of position and snared another Unitas pass in the corner of the end zone for the score. It was Unitas' fourth touchdown pass of the afternoon.

It climaxed a prolific scoring duel in which the Vikings looked like they had a victory sewed up in leading by 27-16 and 34-23 in the fourth quarter.

But Unitas, Orr and Berry would not be denied.

Trailing 34-23 with 3½ minutes to go, Baltimore scored as Unitas passed 60 yards to Orr.

The Vikings still appeared to have command, taking the next kickoff and picking up one first down before being forced to punt from their 38-yard line. Fred Cox' 50-yard punt was fumbled by Jerry Logan, but he recovered for the Colts on the Baltimore 12.

With only 45 seconds remaining and Baltimore 88 yards from a touchdown, Minnesota still looked safe.

However, Unitas passed 21 yards to John Mackey, and a pass interference call moved the ball to the Colt 42-yard line.

That set the stage for Unitas' 45-yard bomb to Berry, who wrestled the ball away from defender Ed Sharockman. On the next play, Orr cut up field, gave Calland a fake to the middle and veered into the right corner of the end zone. Unitas' bullet-like pass hit Orr precisely, and the Colts had completed the unbelievable comeback.

It was a great day for the Minnesota offense, after a horrid start in which the Vikings originated only five plays from scrimmage while Baltimore was mounting a ridiculously easy 16-0 lead.

Fran Tarkenton completed 14 of 20 passes for 225 yards and touchdown strikes of 54 yards to Paul Flatley and 21 yards to Tommy Mason.

Mason had his greatest day of the season, logging 146 yards in 12 carries — including his best single run of the season, a 70-yard scoring scamper around left end that apparently put the Vikings out of reach at 34-23 with eight minutes left in the game.

Tommy Wilson, whose sledgehammer line — bucking the second half kept the Colt defense honest to make Mason and Tarkenton that much more dangerous, tore 30 yards straight up the middle for the 27-16 Viking lead.

And Cox boomed home field goals from 37 and 19 yards.

All this still was not enough to weather Unitas' late passing flurry, however.

ALMOST... Lenny Lyles (43), Baltimore defensive back, does a good job of breaking up this Minnesota Viking pass play intended for back Tommy Mason (20) in the third quarter of the NFL game Sunday in the Twin Cities. The sideline pass, from quarterback Fran Tarkenton, went incomplete. (AP Photofax).

BEARS, GIANTS DIVISION LEADERS

Chicago 'Battle Plan' Works to Perfection

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The best laid plans of generals and football coaches sometimes... work out right to the letter.

Take the "war plan" of the Chicago Bears against the Green Bay Packers. Papa Bear George Halas drew it up, and his troops executed it flawlessly Sunday to chase the enemy Packers from the field — and possibly right out of the National Football League title race.

Halas wrote out his order of battle against the defending champs on a sheet of lined notebook paper headed: "Our War Plan against the Packers."

The text, examined by a correspondent after the battle, proved to have two key points: "Control the ball." "Smother their offense."

The Bears took care of the first with a crushing ground game that outgained the Packers 248 yards to 71. On the second, they intercepted five Packers passes and recovered two fumbles.

The result was a 26-7 Chicago victory that put the Bears alone on top in the West with a 9-1 record. The Packers are 8-2, with both losses coming at the hands of the Bears. There are four games left.

In the East, the New York Giants trampled San Francisco's futile 49ers 48-14 to take over first place in the East with an 8-2 record.

The St. Louis Cardinals dumped the slumping Cleveland Browns 20-11, knocking the Browns out of a tie with the Giants. The Cards and Browns are tied for second with 7-3 records.

The Giants meet the Cards at New York next Sunday.

The Pittsburgh Steelers, hobbled by a hard-luck early season tie, kept their title hopes alive with a late touchdown and a 34-28 victory over the Washington Redskins. The Steelers are 6-3-1.

In other NFL games, Baltimore skinned past Minnesota 37-34 on a touchdown in the last five seconds, the Los Angeles

Rams upset the Detroit Lions 28-21, and the Dallas Cowboys edged the Philadelphia Eagles 27-20.

In the American Football League, San Diego stopped the Buffalo Bills 23-13, the New York Jets tripped Denver 14-9 and Kansas City and Boston played a 24-24 tie. Houston and Oakland were idle.

The Bears showed 49,166 home fans right away that they were loaded for Packery. They took a 13-0 lead in the first period before permitting Green Bay to make a first down.

Two field goals by Roger LeClerc and a 27-yard touchdown on a twisting run by Willie Galtmore built the lead. LeClerc kicked two more in the second half, and quarterback Bill Wake, who moved the team beautifully, scored a touchdown.

Packer Coach Vince Lombardi said afterwards that the Bears were a better team than the one that whipped Green Bay 10-3 in the opener. He said his team was a little better, too.

"Last time they held us to a field goal. This time we got a touchdown," he said, smiling through the bruises.

The Green Bay coach said he would like to try one more time against the Bears. He could get his chance in a playoff since the Bears meet the tough Steelers next week.

The Giants' 49ers game looked like a mismatch. The Giants had a little trouble getting started, but the 49ers never got going at all.

BEAR BACKERS IN EXCURSIONS

MILWAUKEE — It was a worthwhile trip for hundreds of pro football fans from the Chicago area who flocked to southern Wisconsin Sunday and watched the television account of the Bears' 26-7 football victory over the Green Bay Packers.

Northern Illinois was blacked out for the telecast and many fans made a day of the excursion north. A large resort at Pontiana said it had about 1,000 guests Sunday, most of them football fans.

The Milwaukee Road put on special cars for 350 persons who were met by buses at Walworth and taken to the resort where 23 TV sets were set up. A few guests even watched the game while swimming in an indoor pool.

LYNCHING... New York's Erich Barnes (49) and Dick Lynch (22) attempt to break up a pass to Bernie Casey of San Francisco on the final play of the third quarter in the game at Yankee Stadium Sunday. Lynch, who is shown spinning from the collision, suffered a concussion and was hospitalized for observation. (AP Photofax).

Y. A. Tittle Pays Visit to Old San Francisco Pals

NEW YORK (AP) — Y. A. Tittle visited the San Francisco 49ers' dressing room Sunday after throwing four touchdowns passes for New York in a 48-14 victory that put the Giants in first place in the Eastern Conference of the National Football League.

"I just came over to say hello to some old friends," Tittle explained, still wearing part of his uniform.

His "old friends" had seen enough of Y. A. during the long, sunny afternoon at Yankee Stadium as he shredded their defense by completing 16 of 31 for 284 yards and the four scores. One was a 70-yard bomb to Del Sholter on which the fleet end sprinted away from Abe Woodson in the final 30 yards.

Although there was some grumbling from Coach Jack Christiansen of the 49ers about the Giants' rolling up the score, Tittle said the Giants were interested only in winning the game. A bitter Christiansen said he hoped the Giants lose all the rest of their games.

"I know most of those guys," said Tittle. "They were trying to look good but we've got to keep on winning to win it all. They came in real strong and gave me a good pass rush."

Asked if Y. A. was thinking about the 49ers before coming to the Giants, the quarterback said, "When you get in there all the other teams are the same. You are just trying to beat them."

Tittle and most of the Chicago Bears' victory over Green Bay. However, they have more important business at hand in next Sunday's game with St. Louis, which went into a second place tie with Cleveland by upsetting the Browns.

Papa Bear Worries Over Pittsburgh

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bears were still savoring the warm glow of their 26-7 victory over the Green Bay Packers but owner-coach George Halas started his worrying over Pittsburgh, next Sunday's opponent.

"I'd rather be playing any team in the league except Pittsburgh next Sunday," said Halas after his club's tremendous effort against Green Bay which gave the Bears an opening towards the Western Division title of the National Football League.

With four games to play, the Bears hold a one-game lead over Green Bay and can meet the Eastern Division champion by sweeping their final four games.

Chicago's brilliant defense kept Green Bay in check while the offense rolled to a 13-0 lead in the first quarter, upped it to 19-0 in the third period and made it 26-0 before the two-time defending champions finally scored a touchdown.

The touchdown, incidentally, was the first by the Packers against the Bears in two games this season. The Bears held Green Bay to a field goal in winning the season opener 10-3 before Tom Moore finally ram-bled 11 yards in the fourth quarter Sunday for the Packers' only score.

Meanwhile, the Bears piled it on as Roger LeClerc booted four field goals from 29, 46, 19 and 35 yards. Willie Galtmore sprinted 26 yards for one touchdown and Bill Wade added another with a 5-yard dash on a faked pass.

The Bears picked off five Green Bay passes and recovered two fumbles. Not once did they turn the ball over to Green Bay on a fumble or pass interception.

Halas, who claims his defense is the greatest in the league, revealed a war plan for the Green Bay encounter. His plan was to control the ball with runs and short passes and to use a counter offense against key Packer plays. Draw Green Bay in tight, hit them with occasional long passes and smother their offense.

It worked. The Bears netted 248 yards on the ground to 71 for Green Bay. Chicago put on a terrifying rush against Green Bay passers John Roach and Zeke Bratkowski.

Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi wasn't sure what caused the Packers to have five passes intercepted but said the interceptions probably resulted more from rushing linemen than the Bear pass defense.

"They beat us up front," said Lombardi. "Anything else I could say would be pure conjecture. I've lost games before and I'll probably lose games again."

Lombardi revealed he has tremendous respect for Halas. "I'm real happy for Papa George. He's one helluva man. One of the nicest persons I've ever met, sincerely. I wish him luck but I hope he loses another one along the way. I'd like to play him again this year."

Lombardi was looking towards a possible playoff game should the Packers and Bears finish in a tie for the Western Division title. Each has four games to play. One Bear loss and four Green Bay victories would force a playoff.

"Those are mighty nice words from Mr. Lombardi," said Halas when informed about Lombardi's remarks, "but I'd rather not play him again this year unless, of course, we get into the position where Green Bay goes ahead of us and we're hoping for a playoff."

"No, I'll not discuss anything concerning a championship. Remember we have to play Pittsburgh next Sunday and those Steelers are our big worry."

THE THREE BEARS... Aggressiveness of the Chicago Bears defensive team is demonstrated in the fourth quarter Sunday as Bear linebacker Bill George (61) bats down a pass intended for end Ron Kramer (88) of Green Bay. And just for good measure, two other Bears are in position to break up the play, back Roosevelt Taylor (24) and back Richie Petitbon (17). (AP Photofax).

LONGHORNS, MIDDIES WIN

Texas vs. Navy In Cotton Bowl?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Everything is big deep in the heart of Texas, they say. And the Lone Star state seems to be coming up with the biggest college football bowl game New Year's Day.

That would be Texas vs. Navy in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, pitting the No. 1 and No. 2 nationally ranked elevens against each other. The mighty Longhorns already are in, but Army might put a crimp in the hopes of the Cotton Bowl officials by upsetting the Middies in their traditional service game at Philadelphia Nov. 30. At this writing that is doubtful.

Texas kept its status as the nation's only major unbeaten and untied team by beating Texas Christian 17-0 last Saturday, leaving just Texas A&M barring the way to a perfect 10-0 regular season for the Longhorns.

Once-beaten Navy kept pace by taking Duke 38-25 for its eighth victory. All the other teams in The Associated Press top ten also won on a generally formful Saturday. UCLA, Kentucky and Wake Forest supplied the only major surprises.

UCLA, winner of only one previous game, dealt the Washington Huskies a stunning 14-0 defeat dimming Washington's hopes to play in the Rose Bowl. Halfback Byron Nelson scored both UCLA TD's.

The Wake Forest Deacons came through with a 20-19 victory over South Carolina on Brian Piccolo's conversion and thus ended the longest major losing streak at 18 games. Kentucky upset Baylor 19-7.

Michigan State tied Michigan 7-7 and then defeated Wisconsin, 30-13 and Purdue 3-0. Illinois defeated Wisconsin, bumped Purdue 41-21 and lost to Michigan 14-8.

Spartans Meet Illinois for Big 10 Title

CHICAGO (AP) — Faced with a win or quit situation, the Illinois football team advances to Michigan State Saturday to determine the Big Ten championship and the Rose Bowl bid.

After defeating Wisconsin 17-7, Illinois put itself in line for the title while Ohio State bowed out of contention with a 17-8 loss to Northwestern.

The winner of the Illinois-Michigan State game will capture not only the Big Ten title but also the Rose Bowl bid. However, if the game should end in a tie, Michigan State would benefit to the point of its first undisputed Big Ten championship.

The turn of events is caused by Illinois playing a seven-game schedule to six for Michigan State. The Spartans have as yet to lose a game while Illinois has suffered one loss.

Both teams have been tied in conference play but the ironical factor is that each team has had only three similar opponents.

Michigan State tied Michigan 7-7 and then defeated Wisconsin, 30-13 and Purdue 3-0. Illinois defeated Wisconsin, bumped Purdue 41-21 and lost to Michigan 14-8.

Peterson Unanimous Pick for Title

There is little doubt in anyone's mind which team is the one to beat in the Root River circuit.

Peterson won the title last year and were runners-up in the District One tournament. A flock of regulars return, prompting six of the seven conference coaches to pick the Petes to repeat. The only coach not in agreement—Bernie Benson of Peterson.

Rushford, Spring Grove and Caledonia should battle for the No. 2 position.

HOUSTON

New coach Dick Papenfuss is greeted by not too bright a sight as he takes command of the Hurricane basketball team. Gone from the squad that finished 12-8 a year ago are all-conference performers Ron Anwash and J. O. Benson—the team's leading scorers and rebounders.

Height also is a major problem as only one team member will scale over six feet.

"We have starters Steve Bremseth and Tom Runningback," said Papenfuss. "Height will be our strongest disadvantage. The boys like to hustle and seem to have a lot of desire. This could make up for some of our height problems."

Papenfuss has four lettermen back. Runingen is a 5-11 senior forward and Bremseth is a 5-9 junior guard. Other "H" winners are Elwood Lee, 6-1 senior center (the Hurricanes' biggest), and Bob Bremseth, 5-10 sophomore guard.

Top prospects are: Seniors—John Geiwitz, 5-9 guard, and Richard Moen, 5-11 center. Juniors—Andre Rostad, 5-9 guard, and Chuck Eglund, 5-10 guard. Sophomores—Rick Schnauffer, 5-9 guard, Sheldon Swenson, 5-11 forward, and Doug Poppe, 5-11 forward.

Houston was 7-5 in the Root River last year.

CANTON

A year ago, Canton lost 18 straight games. Throughout the season, Don Halverson was one bright spot as the team's leading scorer.

An underclassman at the time, Halverson was being counted on heavily for the coming year. Now he won't be ready until after Christmas because of an injury—suffered in football. Also out because of a grid collision is lettermen Curt Johnson.

"We've got quite a few lettermen back," said coach John Gannon, "and some of the other boys show pretty good promise."

Returning as a complete unit are two lettermen guards, two forwards and a center. The guards are Allyn Brenno, 5-9 senior, and Norm Gillund, 5-9 junior. At forwards are Larry Soiney, 5-10 forward, and Dean Jones, 5-10 forward. The center is Lynn Turner, 6-0 senior.

A senior, two juniors, two sophomores and a freshman make up the list of outstanding prospects.

They are: senior Miles Brettspreecher, 6-2 center forward, junior Tom Davis, 5-11 forward, junior Lowell Olson, 5-11 center-forward, sophomore Robert Leistikow, 6-1 center-forward, sophomore Darwin Halverson, 5-11 forward, and freshman Craig Arneson, 5-5 guard.

MABEL

New coach Jerome Miller greeted seven lettermen at the start of drills at Mabel. The Wildcats prime objective this year will be to improve on a 3-9 conference record and a 4-14 overall finish.

Senior lettermen returning are: Paul Johnson 6-4 center; Dennis Usgaard, 5-9 guard; Dan Crawford, 5-8 guard, Lowell Paa, 5-9 forward, and Terry Vatland, 6-1 center. Robert Rommes is a 6-1 junior forward and a lettermen and sophomore Rick Ruehmann earned a letter as a freshman. He is a guard.

SPRING GROVE

Prospects at Spring Grove are gloomy this year simply because the Lions lost heavily through graduation.

Only Melvin Homuth, 6-3 junior center, returns as a starter from the senior dominated team of a year ago.

He, however, averaged 14 points per game and is expected to be the chief Lion threat this year.

The remainder of the first team positions should go to senior lettermen, with seven members of Ron Stone's Bomber team, which compiled an 11-7 record last year, also in the battle for starting berths.

Lettermen returning in addition to Homuth are: Bob Muller, 6-0 forward; Gary Glasrud, 6-1 forward; Don K. Me, 5-11 guard, and Mark Ellingson, 5-8 guard.

Top prospects include: Wayne Gulbranson, 6-0 junior forward; Lowell Trehus, 5-11 junior guard; Ken Halverson, 5-9 junior guard; Dave Roszaen, 5-10 junior guard; Richard Myhre, 5-11 junior forward; Tim Kurs, 5-11 junior forward; Rick Pitel, 5-10 junior guard, and Craig Baldwin, 5-10 junior guard.

Spring Grove a year ago stood 9-3 in the Root River and 10-9 overall.

PETERSON

With ever team aiming at them because they are defending conference champions, Peterson could be in for a rough season.

But with three all-conference performers back from a year ago, the Petes are a unanimous choice to reign supreme when the season winds up in February.

Four lettermen return from

Coach Bernie Benson's team which compiled a 16-5 mark last year. Leading the way are Murt Boyum, a 5-9 sparkplug, and Stan Gudmundson, 6-11, who both were chosen on the first all-loop squad last season. Stan Olson, 6-2, is a returning veteran who was on the second all-conference team. The fourth of the quartet is John Gerden, a six-footer who is tough under the boards.

Top prospects are Donnie Gudmundson, Gerald Agrimison, Dave Hegland, Duane Hegland, Alvern Agrimison, Jerry Halvieg, Wayne Hasleiet, and Jim Halvieg.

CALEDONIA

If anyone has a shot at knocking Peterson from its high perch, it should be Caledonia.

Veteran Coach Felix Percuoco has nine lettermen back from last year's team which stood 8-11. Among the "C" wearers, five meet or top the six-foot mark, giving the Warriors good height for the coming season.

Ken Larson, 6-3, is the tallest of the group, followed closely by Dean King, 6-2. Bob Giblin, Jim Wiegrefe, and Jon Ask are all 6-0. Jim Harris, 5-11, Mike Percuoco, 5-9, Paul Renslo, 5-9, and Jim Erwin, 5-7, make up the rest of the varsity returnees.

Percuoco terms Peterson "far and above" the rest of the circuit, with any team capable of taking second place.

Five sophomores and a junior are the top prospects. The sophs are: Burl Haar, 6-2, Bruce Hansen, 6-0, Bruce Denison, 5-11, Jack Hauser, 6-0, and Mike Simons, 5-9. The junior is 5-10 Joel Schulze.

RUSHFORD

A year ago, Rushford finished 8-4 in the Root River Conference and stood 11-9 overall. This year, coach Ward Huff greeted three returning lettermen from that team.

They will form the nucleus for the 1963-64 squad.

The lettermen are: Craig Johnson, 6-0 senior guard; Tom Culhane, 5-11 senior forward, and Dale Olstead, 6-0 junior forward.

The remainder of the help will have to come from six juniors and two seniors who Huff lists as outstanding prospects.

The juniors are: Ed Sandness, 6-2 forward; John Kinneberg, 5-11 center; Rex Marion, 6-0 forward; Doug Rislove, 5-9 guard; Vern Bunkle, 5-10 guard, and Terry Westby, 5-10 guard.

Senior prospects are: Paul Engrav, 6-1 center, and Terry Benson, 5-11 forward.

PARENTS' NIGHT AT WINONA HIGH

Parents of the Winona High "A" squad basketball players were extended an invitation by Head Coach John Kenney to attend "parents' night" this evening at 7 p.m.

The parents will watch a short practice session in the high school gym, and then there will be a get-together in the cafeteria between the boys, their parents and the coaches immediately following.

"We feel this type of thing does a lot of good," said Kenney. "The parents then know what to expect of me, and they know what I expect of them. It also arouses interest in the game."

The Winhawk cagers, who open the season by hosting Harmony Friday, went through a scrimmage session against Peterson Saturday, giving Kenney time for a final look at his squad before "cut" time.

The 15 boys who will make up the varsity this year are: Steve Keller, Pat Boland, Bill Squires, John Duet, Jim Kasten, Gary Addington, Tony Kreuzer, John Brandt, Dennis Duran, Bruce Holan, Larry Balk, Jim Stoa, Tom Miller, Joe Goldberg and Bob Urness.

Jackrabbits 3rd in NCAA Cross Country

WHEATON, Ill. (AP)—South Dakota State finished third and North Dakota State fifth in the NCAA college division cross country meet here Saturday.

The Jackrabbits totaled 179 points to trail champion Emporia (Kan.) State with 44 and Akron, Ohio, with 174. Fourth was Valparaiso, Ind., with 182, and then the Bison with 197.

Fewest number of runs scored by a losing team in a World Series is three. That's all the Philadelphia Athletics got when they bowed in five games to the 1905 New York Giants.

Canton Couple Top Doubles Combination

With half of the action over, a couple from Canton are holding down the top spot in the Hamm's Mixed Doubles Tournament at Hal-Rod Lanes.

Charles Ramlo and Louis Peterson ripped off 1,211 to capture top honor thus far by 27 pins over John and Marie Lingvold of Eau Claire. Charles combined with Norm Halverson, also of Canton, for third spot with 1,180. The best a Winona couple could do was fourth spot. Jim and Susie Schneider grabbed that position with 1,176.

About 125 entries are expected for the two-weekend affair. The number of teams rolling this weekend totaled 59, with 50 more entries set for next weekend up to this point.

Top individual honors of the tourney have gone to Charles Ramlo with 224-584. She also bagged a 539 on her second try. Other women's 500s include: Helen Ekblad, who is an all-star bowler from the Twin Cities with a 189 average, 552, Elsie Dorsch 510, Betty Schultz 517, Phyllis Thurlay 500, Helen Ekblad 513 and Dorothy Klein 503.

George Meyers topped the men with 256-625. Norm Halverson socked 611. The cutoff point to finish in the money is 1,131.

Hawks Ramble Past Lakers for First Position

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An overnight trip from St. Louis didn't faze the veteran Bob Pettit and the Hawks took over undisputed leadership in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association by whipping Los Angeles Sunday, 117-112.

The Hawks had tied the Lakers with an uphill 115-112 victory over Baltimore in St. Louis Saturday night. The quick trip to the Pacific Coast didn't keep Pettit from scoring 33 points and crossing the 18,000-point plateau. Pettit now has a career total of 18,015 points, second only to the 19,115 by Dolph Schayes, coach of the Philadelphia 76ers.

San Francisco drubbed Detroit, 120-96, and Cincinnati edged Baltimore, 110-109, in Sunday's other NBA games. In addition to the Hawks' win over Baltimore, New York downed Cincinnati, 122-114, and Los Angeles took Detroit, 115-95, in other Saturday night games.

A fast break helped the Hawks down the Lakers in their battle for first place. The Lakers took an early lead, but Pettit led the Hawks to a 77-66 lead and they stayed in front. Elgin Baylor was high for Los Angeles with 30 points.

Twins' Outstanding Rookie

GREEN, HALL AT AC WEDNESDAY

For those who attended the Meet the Twins banquet last year, Lennie Green is a well known quantity.

The speedy centerfielder is one of the comedians making the public relations circuit for Twins' American League baseball team. He will be at the Athletic Club along with outstanding rookie Jimmie Hall, ticket manager Charlie Lavender, and director of public relations Tom Mee Wednesday for the annual banquet.

The quartet will be at Cotter High School at 2:30 p.m. to talk to the students, and then speak at the banquet which begins at 6:30 p.m. In addition, movies will be shown.

Clarence Bell will be master of ceremonies. Harvey Stever is the banquet chairman. Tickets may be purchased at the Athletic Club, and from all club officers.

State Harriers 3rd in AAU Meet

Winona State's cross-country team placed third in the Minnesota AAU championship Saturday. Twin City Track Club won it with 25 points to 46 for Bethel and 49 for the Warriors.

"We used the meet mainly for conditioning," said Warrior coach Tom Vail. "We probably could have finished second, but the kids were running the hills hard and doing things they ordinarily wouldn't do."

Ron Daws of Twin City was the individual winner. State had Bruce Smith seventh, Dennis Wodele ninth, Dick Lietzau 11th, Tom Gale 20th and Ron Belongie 22nd.

The Warriors will run in the NAIA meet Nov. 30.

300 CLUB MEMBER MILWAUKEE (W)—Gene Ralfe bowled a 300 game Thursday night in leading his Globe Optical team to the nation's high single game score of 780 while competing in the Three Man Classic League at Uptown Lanes.

It seems that just yesterday area fans were shouting "we want a touchdown."

Well the touchdowns have come and gone for the 1963 season and 19 Winona area basketball teams will unveil Tuesday night.

Holmen, which sports seven-foot center Eino Hendrickson, will tangle with Onalaska Luther of the Bi-State circuit. Labor Warned Negroes Feel Slight by AFL

NEW YORK (AP)—A. Philip Randolph told the AFL-CIO today that Negroes are suffering from unemployment and will lose their faith in the labor movement if it does not help them more.

Negroes "are the pariahs, the exiles, the untouchables of our economy," said Randolph, the only Negro AFL-CIO vice president.

Opening a special order of business on civil rights before more than 1,000 delegates at the AFL-CIO convention, Randolph said:

"Make no mistake about it, brothers and sisters, there is a growing feeling of alienation from the labor movement in the Negro community."

Sherman Paces City Bowlers

With only four leagues in action over the weekend on Winona bowling alleys, John Sherman's 211-52 in the King & Queens circuit at Westgate Bowl topped individual efforts.

John was firing for Minn. B & H's, while Sharon Schubert topped the women with 158-42 for C and Sers. Double O's took teams honors with 696-1,977.

On the same lanes, Bev Schmitz sparked Schmitz-Lica to 733-2.01 with her 510. Bill Armstrong tagged 213 for Hutchinson-Lidke, and Orville Cisewski hit 500.

Hal-Rod Lanes had two high school loops in action. Bill Richter smashed 202 in leading Knights to 768-1,994 in the Boys' league. Mike Weigel rapped 497 for Odes.

Bev Giltgen rocketed 205-465 for Alley Batters in the Girl's circuit. Heats totaled 665, and Strikettes registered 1,817.

Hull Back to Old 'Hat' Tricks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Don't look now, but the big, blond bomber from Chicago is back to his old tricks — hat tricks. Which may mean that the National Hockey League race is all over.

Bobby Hull, the Black Hawks' bomber, bashed in three goals for the hat trick Sunday night and powered the Hawks to a 6-0 triumph over Toronto.

For the Hawks, who are threatening to run away and hide from the rest of the league, it was their 11th victory along with four ties in 17 games. With the season less than a quarter completed, they hold an eight-point lead over Toronto and Montreal, tied for second.

New York broke a seven-game losing streak 5-2 against Detroit and Montreal edged Boston 3-2 in the last 22 games in Sunday's other games.

BADGER CAGERS QUICK, BUT SMALL

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—"This is the best ball handling and running team we've had in my five seasons as coach."

That's one of Coach Johnny Erickson's impressions of the Wisconsin basketball team after the first month of practice.

But there's a darker side. "We're not a real good rebounding team, though," Erickson said Saturday, "because we haven't got enough size. Our shooting has been good but not consistent."

The Badgers will make their first public appearance a week from tonight, meeting the freshmen in the field-house. The season opens at home Dec. 2 against Kent State.

Vikings Host Grid Contestants

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The four boys who are representing the Minnesota Vikings in the national Punt, Pass and Kick contest competed against the tape measure here Sunday during halftime of the Viking-Baltimore game.

Dennis Allard of Hopkins, Minn., competing in the 11-year-old division, totaled 193 1/2 points; Jeff Zwarych of Mandan, N.D., the 10-year-old, had 170 points; Todd Treichel of Cambridge, Minn., a 9-year-old, 167; and Gayle Olson, Mott, N.D., the 8-year-old, compiled 112 1/2.

Their point totals will be sent to Detroit for comparison with results made by boys at the other six league cities in the Western Conference of the National Football League.

COLAVITO TRADED

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Detroit Tigers traded slugger outfielder Rocky Colavito to the Kansas City Athletics today for star second baseman Jerry Lumpe and pitchers Ed Rakow and Dave Wickersham.

The debate that started today was the first touching directly on Christian unity although the council previously had indirectly considered the matter as a side issue in other discussions.

Of the nine prelates who took the floor in the opening general discussion on the schema, nearly all expressed reservations or opposition to various aspects of the document.

Outspoken in opposition to the declaration concerning the Jews was Ernesto Cardinal Ruffini of Palermo, Sicily, a conservative.

The cardinal was joined by Patriarchs Ignace Gabriel Cardinal Tappouni, of Antioch of the Syrians, Stephanos I Siderouss of Alexandria, Egypt, of the Copts, and Maximos IV Saigh of Antioch of the Melchites.

This is: Can a private businessman who wishes to exclude persons of one race from his business invoke state trespass laws to enforce his policy?

What the Supreme Court did today was to request in an order that the Justice Department submit its views on the constitutional issue. The high court divided 5-4 in making the request.

The majority was made up of Chief Justice Warren and Justices Douglas, Brennan, Stewart and Goldberg. The dissenters were Justices Black, Clark, Harlan and White.

Among other actions today the high court:

—Refused to review and thus let stand a lower court ruling that residents on a federal reservation at Perry Point, Md., may not register as voters in Maryland elections.

—Agreed to review a case involving seizure and destruction of 1,715 books in Kansas as obscene. The Kansas Supreme Court approved the destruction of the books published as "This is an Original Nightstand Book."

State Deer Season Ends, 14 Fatalities

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Minnesota deer season which ended Sunday night left 14 persons dead.

Four men died of gunshot wounds, the latest victim on Saturday when he was struck in the heart by a rifle slug near Holt, in Marshall County in northwestern Minnesota.

The victim was Hugh Engstrom, 56, of Warren, Minn. Marshall County officials said he was walking in a ditch on a deer drive when he was struck by a bullet fired by Harry McLean, Grygla, Minn. McLean told authorities he fired at a deer.

Three other men were killed by gunfire on Nov. 9, opening day of the season. Nine men suffered fatal heart attacks and one died of effects of an oil stove fire.

Oscar Lindsog, 67, Duluth, died Saturday in a Duluth hospital of effects of a fire the previous Sunday in a hunting shack near Floodwood.

Many hunters were wounded in accidental shootings. Three were injured in gun accidents Sunday, and a fourth hunter was missing and feared dead.

Victims of two separate accidents were hospitalized in Duluth. Henry Dandrea, 39, Duluth, suffered a head wound while hunting about 25 miles north of Two Harbors, and Jorg Jacobs, 17, a German seaman on a ship docked at Duluth, was shot through a thigh and leg while hunting near Isabella, in Lake County.

Another futile aerial search was made in the Long Lake area, between Cook and Orr, for George Lon, 50, Squaw Lake, Minn. Lon disappeared Nov. 10 while hunting. Authorities said they fear he is dead.

The proposed expenditures are:

General government	$12,350
Protection persons, property	15,721
Health, sanitation	4,205
Education, recreation	5,500
Streets, transportation	29,310
Charities	1,000
Indebtedness	6,768
Unclassified	2,250

$77,154
Less anticipated revenue $33,381
Total $43,773

Last year the city levied $39,436. This, with the local school levy of $63,274 totaled $102,710 in local government taxes paid exclusive of the county and state taxes imposed.

THE SCHOOL LEVY here this year is $62,646, slightly under last year.

The proposed budget was presented to the Common Council Thursday night. Jack DeWitt, Madison, and Attorney Burr Tarrant, Whitehall, appeared for American Gas Co., a distributor.

DeWitt explained that if his company were granted a franchise, with approval of the Federal Power Commission and Wisconsin Public Service Commission, an economic feasibility survey of the city could be made.

DeWitt is to give the council a comparison of the cost of fuel oil sold by the gallon and gas by the cubic foot. Council turned the franchise agreement over to city attorney John Quinn for study.

The city will advertise for 15-20 acres of unusable farm land near town for a landfill disposal area.

RENTAL OF the city truck was set at $1.50 per hour when used by water and sewer utilities. After discussing whether to buy an automatic road sander for icy streets or hire extra men for sanding, council decided manpower would be less expensive.
